Bringing financial stability to families and their children through encouragement and support

Are you a noncustodial parent with a child support order in Cuyahoga County or Hamilton County, Ohio?

Would you like to learn how to better manage your money, get help with child support, learn saving strategies and use credit responsibly?

If so, you are invited to attend financial literacy workshops and one-on-one coaching sessions free of charge. You could even earn $100 for participating!

Through the workshops and one-on-one coaching sessions, you will learn how to:

- Better Manage your Money
- Identify Money-Saving Strategies
- Develop a Personal Financial Plan
- Use Credit Responsibly
- Build Assets
- Improve Other Financial Literacy Skills

If you complete the workshops and coaching sessions, you will earn a $100 savings incentive. You also may qualify for an Individual Development Account (IDA), in which each dollar you save is matched to help you purchase a new home, start a new business or go to school.

To learn more, contact your county child support enforcement agency (CSEA) or the other organizations listed on the back of this brochure. Your CSEA can help you with things like:

- Paternity Establishment
- Support Order Establishment
- Review and Adjustment of Your Support Order
- Possible Adjustment of Any Amounts You May Owe the State
- Reinstatement of your Driver's License
